Balsiger to Represent Clancy From Kelly's Filmworks

Third Motion Picture from the Creators of "The Perfect Stranger"
Available for International Broadcast Television and DVD Licensing

LOVELAND, Colorado—Following the successful international licensing introduction of the popular motion picture, The Perfect Stranger, and its sequel, Another Perfect Stranger—both from Kelly's Filmworks—Balsiger Enterprises has announced that it has added Clancy to its list of exceptional feature films. A family and faith-based entertainment marketing company, Balsiger Enterprises licenses motion pictures and television specials and series to broadcasters and DVD distributors worldwide.

"The Stranger franchise has generated remarkable audience and global market reception," observes licensing executive, David Balsiger. "We've had an enthusiastic faith and family market response to both The Perfect Stranger and Another Perfect Stranger. This is essentially the same creative team telling a fresh, compelling story of faith and redemption."

Clancy was written and directed by Jefferson Moore, who wrote the screenplay and co-directed both The Perfect Stranger and Another Perfect Stranger. The title role of twelve year-old Clancy Miller is played by young Christina Dawn Fournie, in her feature film debut. The film also stars Moore as Nick, a homeless, disgraced veteran.

"In the Stranger films, Jefferson Moore played a Jesus character," explains Balsiger Enterprises CEO, Dave Balsiger. "In this film, he plays a man far away from God. This story has action, adventure, betrayal, corruption, faith, and redemption. It's a terrific family film—one that pre-teens and teens will greatly enjoy along with adults who can identify with the plight of returning veterans and the homeless. We're expecting a tremendous response from family-oriented TV networks and religious broadcasters as well as DVD distributors."

Reviewer Praise for Clancy

One reviewer said regarding Clancy: "I was especially touched by "Clancy". The message of unconditional love through very trying and painful life circumstances grabbed at my heart."

The Dove Foundation gave Clancy four Doves in its five point approval rating system. The non-profit organization, whose mission is to encourage and promote the creation, production, distribution and consumption of wholesome family entertainment, recommends Clancy to audiences of twelve years of age and older.

"Jefferson Moore has done an outstanding job of putting heartfelt emotion and drama into the center of a story that could happen to anyone," observes Balsiger. "It's poignant, enlightening, and entertaining. I've described it to my colleagues as a Frank Capra-like film shot in high def."

Balsiger Brings Decades of Experience

Clancy was released in October of 2009 and has enjoyed impressive domestic sales to date. For its overseas distribution, Kelly's Filmworks chose to expand its relationship with Balsiger Enterprises, a small Colorado company well known inside the global film and television industry.

David Balsiger is a veteran of the worldwide television broadcast and DVD licensing business, including supervising all licensing operations for legendary film and television production company, Grizzly Adams Productions. In the past decade with Balsiger heading licensing operations, Grizzly Adams has produced and licensed more than 650 family friendly feature films, documentaries, TV specials and series. The company is named after its long-running NBC television series, The Life and Times of Grizzly Adams.

As a producer of scores of films and television specials, Balsiger is widely recognized among industry professionals as a keen judge of market potential for projects developed for family and faith-focused audiences.

"When we first took on The Perfect Stranger, I knew we had something special," explains Balsiger. "Here was a powerful film that answered questions about the relevancy of Christianity in the lives of men and women today. Another Perfect Stranger skewed to a younger demographic, but addressed the difference between faith and religion through the eyes of Jesus."

He adds, "Now we have Clancy, a totally different story and approach to storytelling, but with an equally powerful message. We're thrilled to be able to offer all of these films to our clients in Europe, Asia, South America, and the Pacific Rim."

In addition to the slate of feature films from Kelly's Filmworks, a seven-part Stranger television miniseries is now available for international broadcast licensing and DVD distribution through Balsiger Enterprises.
